COMMITTEE IN SESSION

Operators and Engineers Jointly Considering the Proposition Made-Legg Says the Miners will Net Feel Their Agreement to Work Binding if They Are Not Satisfied of the Ability of the Man at the Lever.

The joint committee of operators and coal hoisting engineers, to which was referred by the operators' and miners' conference the demand for an eighthour workday for the engineers, held its first session in the council chamber Thursday morning. The éngineers of the committee are B. F. Thomas, employed at the Massillon Mining Company's mine; William Mong. Central mine; Jacob Heinbuch, Drake mine; William Penman, jr., Elm Run mine; David Evans, Mullins mine; J. P. Heinbuch, Warwick mine. The operators are the Hon. Anthony Howells, J. P. Burton, E. E. Fox, Philip Sonnhalter, W. R. Gerard, J. C. Haring and W. J.

Mr. Howells presided at the meeting. The engineers desired the presence of Robert Legg, president of the sub-district branch of the United Mine Workers, but the operators objected. Mr. Legg, however, will remain in the city while the conference is in progress, and will meet with the engineers when the occasion requires. The engineers' demands are incorporated in the following proposition, which is now being considered by the operators:

"It is fully understood and agreed upon by the coal hoisting engineers of Massillon district that they will not under any circumstances suspend work in smypathy with their organization, and further that they will during the continuance of their contract at all times fully protect all of the company's property under their care, and that they will operate fans and pumps and lower and hoist such men and supplies as may be required to protect the company's that the first shall receive $2.15 and the second and third $1 90 each."

The operators do not object to the en gineers being members of the miners organization, but they insist that all their dealings must be with the engineers themselves, and not with the officers of the United Mine Workers. They claim that they are sustained in this stand by the Indianapolis agreement, which is said to contain nothing applying directly to the engineers.

President Legg was asked Thurslay what action would be taken by the miners' organization in the event of a failure of the engineers and operators to agree, and a decision to strike. "No miner," said he, "could be expected to place his life in the hands of an inexperienced or unpractical engineer. Though we miners have an agreement to work without cessation for one year, nevertheless we certainly would feel justified in refusing to enter the mines if we could not feel that safety which comes with the knowledge that the hand of a competent man is on the lever."

THAT "BACK ACTION" SCREEN.

Robert Legg, president of the subdistrict branch of the miners' unio 1, states that he will visit the North Massillon mine, Friday, and inspect the screen about which the miners have complained. The workmen say it is a earnings are reduced by its being used. They demand a straightway screen such as is in general operation in the district The operators declare that the screen places the miner at no disadvantage, and that its use is necessary to in order to separate the coal as they desire. Mr. Legg and representatives of the Ridgway Burton Company, will meet to settle the matter after the inspection.

Operators Deny an Eight-Hour Day to Engineers.

Another Meeting Will be Held Saturday Morning, After the Engineers' Delegates Have Consulted Their Constituents-Operators Say They Will Grant Only Such Conditions as Exist Elsewhere in the State.

The Massillon coal operators Thursday blankly refused the demand of the hoisting engineers for an eight-hour workday and a wage scale ranging from $1.90 to $2 15. The conference adjourned. A meeting of the engineers association will be held this evening, and at 10 o'clock Saturday morning another conference with the operators will take

The operators say that there is no subdistrict in the state where the engineers have an eight hour workday. They expressed a willingness to put into effect at their mines any general rule that had been adopted in other fields. The operators claim that there is nothing in the Indianapolis agreement which compels them to make the concession. President Howels advised the engineers to nourish their organization until it shall include all the engineers of the state, and then make general conditions for

PROBABLY WAS A TRAMP.

The Discovery of the Body Made by Charles Zimmerman, of Beech Grove, who was on His Way to One of the Mines, Early on Friday Morning-Township Officials Making Inquiry.

The body of a man was found between East Greenville and West Brookfield, four miles west of Massillon, at an early hour Friday morning, by Charles Zim-THE CONFEREES THEN PART merman, of Beech Grove, who was on his way to the works of the Massillon Mining Company, where he is employed. The man had evidently been dead for several hours. Mr. Zimmerman notified Trustee David Brenner, Squire Wefler, Constable Sibila and other officials of Tuscarawas township, who ordered the body removed to the residence of Jacob Berlin, where, after an examination, it was turned over to Undertaker Higerd, who had been summoned from Massillon. No one who viewed the body was able to give any information as to the man's name[]or home. It is supposed that he was a tramp.

Squire Wefler conducted an inquest at the Berlin residence. Charles Zimmerman, John Engle and Frank Shannon were examined. Messrs. Zimmerman and Shannon testified to having found the body. They were going in opposite directions, and had come upon it at about the same time.

Mr. Engle, who is a miner, stated that he recognized the body as that of a man who had called at his home the night before and asked for shelter. "I was obliged to turn him away," said Mr. Engle, "because I had no place to put him. I told him to go to the residence of Mr. Berlin, a short distance away. That was the last I saw of him."

The body was lying at the side of the road in a low swampy place. The face bore no traces of suffering. The head of the dead man was resting on a small package, containing some old clothing, when found. The general indications suggested that the man had lain down to sleep and had died while in that condition. The fact, however, that there were other and better places for him to have made his bed in the vicinity makes this supposition seem unlikely. It is the American export trade a study, says: ure while walking, and that he fell that an eight-hour day for hoisting enping under his head as he went down. There were no marks of violence on the body, so the township officials did not consider it necessary to call a physician.

On the body were found a razor, an empty pocketbook and a handkerchief. Nothing of value was in the bundle. The latter was attached to a stout staff, which he ordinarily used to assist him in walking. His mouth was filled with tobacco, which fact also serves to upset sleep, as most users of the weed do not require it in their slumbers. Nothing was found suggesting the name of the home of the man. The body is that of a short man, probably 65 years old. He wore chin whiskers. The hair and beard

After the inquest, Squire Weiler notified Coroner Schuffele, at Canton, and the body was removed to Higerd's undertaking room, in Massillon.

(From Saturday's Daily.)

No information as to the identity of the body which lies in Higerd's undertaking rooms can be obtained. The body was found Friday morning near the farm of Jacob Berlin, west of the city lying by the roadside. It was thought by some persons that the body was that of "Irish Dick," a peculiar individual who has been in this vicinity off and on for many years.

Deputy Game Warden Dangeleisen and Joseph Emerson, who have known 'Irish Dick" ever since he first appeared hereabouts, Friday, however, declared that the dead man was not he. They stated "Irish Dick" is a man well upon six feet in height, while this person, according to Undertaker Higerd, is considerably below the average height.

Coroner Schuffele Friday authorized

Squire Weffer to act in the case. Mr. Wetler accordingly ordered that the body should be held until Monday, and that in the meantime efforts should be made to locate friends or relatives of the deceased. The man carried with him a complete kit of needles and thread, and in one of the pockets of his coat a quantity of bread. He was undoubtedly a tramp.

THEIR DEMAND REFUSED

The Operators Offer to Establish in the District the Average Conditions of the State, But Hold the Eight-Hour Day Proposition to be Unreasonable Work.

Coal operators and hoisting engineers met again in the council chamber Saturday morning. The engineers presented their ultimatum, which is that they will strike at 6 o'clock Monday morning if their demand for an eight-hour workday and a wage scale of $1 90 to $2.15 is not granted. The operators took a recess till 2 o'clock to consider the matter.

The committee of engineers includes all of those present at the Thursday session, with the addition of Richard Krauser, who is employed by the Ridgway Burton Company; John Owens, employed by the Howells Company: R. H. Hagan, employed by the Krause Company, and S. Ludding, employed by the Pocock Company. The operators' committee is constituted as heretofore.

The engineers held a meeting at East Greenville Friday evening. The attendance was large. All signified their willingness to leave their positions if their demand was not granted. At the conference Saturday morning the question was asked what course the engineers would pursue if men were hired to take their places. The delegates replied that their employers were at liberty to do as they pleased and they could rest assured nothing would be done to hinder their successors from working.

The following resolution was adopted by the operators during their recess, and was presented to the engineers when the conference re-convened at 2 o'clock: Resolved, That the Massillon coal operators consider the demand of the engineers for an eight-hour day unreasonable, in view of the fact that we believe gineers does not prevail in the competi tive helds throughout the state.

'But we are willing to grant our engineers the average conditions and wages that prevail for similar work throughout the state, provided it shall be ascertained that our existing scale for such employment is below the average conditions in other districts in the state, such conditions to be ascertained by joint investigation of engineers and operators."

The conference adjourned at 2:30 o'clock. The engineers say that nothing but an eight-hour day and a wage scale of $1.90 to $2.15 will be acceptable to their constituents, and that all engineers in the district will be ordered to leave their engines at 6 o'clock Monday morning.

The Entertainment Given Friday Evening.

INTERESTING PROGRAMME

The Proceeds will be Used to Bny Class Pins and for the Purchase of Books for the High School Library-A Large Audience Present

The class of 1901 of the Massillon high chool gave an interesting and successful entertainment in the Armory on Friday night, the house being filled to the doors. For weeks members of the class have devoted their spare time to preparations for the event and the result amply repaid them for their trouble.

The curtain rose on a refreshing picture of the forty bright young people disposed in picturesque groups. After -The Miners May Also Refuse to a selection by the orchestra, the opening address was delivered by John J. Gorman, who spoke of the efforts of the class to make the entertainment a success and said that it was the desire, in addition to purchasing class pins with the proceeds, to make some additions to the school library. He referred feelingly to the trials of the high school pupil in the three years of the course.

The second number was a girls' chorus, "Hither, Fairies, Hither." was well rendered by twelve young ladies of the class. Ralph Oberlin then eloquently recited "The Tale of the Kennebec Mariner." Nellie Lowe followed with Barri's Largo for the violin. The accompaniment was played by Miss Mary Keller. The Largo is a beautiful selection full of feeling and the interpretation given was excellent. Miss Edith Scott then read an essay on "Our Own Times." She referred to the inventions of the past few years-electricity, the telegraph. the telephone, and called attention to the fact that our forefathers enjoyed none of the advantages which we receive from these things. The next number was Abt's "County Fair' Waltz, sung by a mixed chorus, including nearly all of the members of the class. This, as well as all of the musical numbers furnished by the class, was very good and showed the careful training they had received at the hands of Professor Graves, the teacher in charge of this department of the work.

Miss Laura Jones then recited "The Gambler's Wife," and the Misses Marjorie Gates and Edna Dielhenn played Nevins's "Country Dance" for four hands on the piano. Fred Schnierle chose for his subject "The Rise of the Dutch Republic." He went into history to show the origin of the government of the sturdy Hollanders, and followed the progress of the country to the present

Fine Structure at Richmond, Va., Burned.

NO LIVES REPORTED LOST.

The Structure Estimated to Have Cost About $1,000,000 When Built-About $650,000 Insurance-One Guest Had Leg Broken-Fireman Injured.

Richmond, Va., March 30.-The Jefferson hotel, the magnificent structure built and furnished by the late Lewis Ginter, at a cost of about $1,-000,000, was destroyed by fire. No lives were lost. The hotel was constructed of buff brick and granite foundation and was regarded as semi-fire proof. The building covered about half a block in the ultra-fashionable part of the city, fronting on West Main and Franklin streets.

The flames broke out in the upper part of t eh Main street side, spread with a tremendous rush, and soon that part of the building was a seething mass of fire.

About 3 o'clock this (Saturday) morning the two towers of the build ing were still standing, as also was part of the Franklin street front, but the latter is a wreck.

Soon after the discovery of the fire which was eating into the linen room, the hotel fire apparatus was brought into play, but the hose burst. tendants then dashed through the building, awakening the guests, many of whom were sleeping and had to be dragged out of bed. Most of the guests on the Franklin street end of the hotel saved their baggage, and finally the Jefferson statue was got ten out with the head broken off. The guests in the part where the fire started lost their baggage and many of them lost all their clothes.

Owing to the height of the building the fire department was at a great disadvantage. There were no thrilling escapes, the halls and staircases being numerous and wide.

Last night the other hotels and private residences in the neighborhood of the Jefferson are crowded with the burned out guests, some of whom were in a great state of excitement. The latest theory regarding the origin of the fire is that it started from electric wires. Captain Wise, of the fire department, was painfully burned. One of the guests had his leg broken. He was removed to the Old Dominon hospital.

The insurance was estimated at about $650,000.

Business So Reported-Labor Situation More Tranquil-Some Points of Dun's Review.

New York, March 30.-Dun's Weekly Review of Trade, issued today, said in part:

The condition of general business is in most respects satisfactory. The drygoods trade and particularly the cotton division is gloomy, with further reductions in prices of staple goods this week, and demand failing to increase with the shading of quotations; but from every other departmet of business reports are cheerful and the outlook for a good spring retail turn-over is encouraging. There is little difficulty over conections in any direction and the mercantile demand for money from numerous quarters is proof of the confidence felt among manufacturers and jobbers. The labor situation is more tranquil. Mining differences in the soft coal region are settled and sober counsels seem to have prevailed among anthracite miners. Aside from the expected advance in structural shapes there is comparative steadiness in iron and steel. Trend of Cabinet Views as to Aguinaldo.

GUAM LIKELY HIS PRISON HOME.

Now Confined in a Room in Maiacanan Palace-General Trias One of His Visitors-Cailles Wanted to Surrender-Must Be Unconditional.

Washington, March 30.-At the cabinet meeting part of the time was devoted to a discussion of the capture of Aguinaldo, its effect upon the military situation in the Philippines, the disposition to be made of the insurgent chief and the reward to be given to General Funston. The subject was considered in all its phases, but no definite conclusions were reached either with regard to General Funston's reward or to the punishment of Aguinaldo.

The president and all members of the cabinet are in favor of the most liberal and substantial recognition of the services perfomed by General Funston. There was some discussion of the question of making him a brig adier general in the regular army, but it was thought that full reports should be awaited before action was taken. The matter probably will be allowed to rest where it is for the present. General Funston is holding a volunteer commission as brigadies general, which will not expire until June 30 of this year, so that so far as the honor and emoluments are con cerned, his standing would not be pre judiced by the delay.

Aguinaldo's Fate Not Decided.

The disposition to be made of Aguinaldo is a matter that could not be disposed of definitely. Whatever action is taken in regard to him will originate with the army officials in the Philippines and be passed upon finally here. There is no inclination to deal harshly with the man who has led the insurrection against the forces of this country. Some of the cabinet officers think it possible he may be used with good effect by the authorities of the Philippine commission in the establishment of civil government. General MacArthur's dispatch suggesting that Aguinaldo might issue an address advising the insurgents to accept the situation was pointed to as indicating posibislities along this line. On the other hand Aguinaldo's record has not been such as to win for him great confidence in his constancy, and if his influence can not be utilized safely, he undoubtedly will be sent to some place where he can foment no further trouble. Guam was mentioned as a possible place for his detention.

The president and his cabinet believe that the capture of Aguinalda will mean much in the crushing of the insurrection. Indeed they are inclined to believe now that it means the utter collapse of the opposition to the authority of the United States.

The view of the majority of the cabinet was that the time is not yet ripe to decide what course should be pursued in the disposition of Aguinaldo. It is felt that some little time should elapse to permit an opportunity to deliberate carefully over what course would prove the wisest whether he can be of any service to the United States government by remaining at Manila and exerting his influence in the direction of peace. whether it would be dangerous to permit him to remain so close to the field activity, or insurrectionary whether even it would be best to send him among the other insurgent prisoners on the island of Guam. There is no disposition to deal otherwise than lenient with him, but there are various questions that will have to be considered in the case, as for instance, whether he personally instigated the assassinations of Americans and similar offenses which some of the members of the cabinet feel should call for some penalty. It can not be too emphatically stated that the administration will avoid giving the captured leader and basis for posing as a martyr. The matter of transporting him to Guam will receive serious consideration. One senator who called at the white house suggested to the president the advisability of transporting Aguinaldo to some place like Tutuila, in the Samoan group, where, it was pointed out, he could be kept at a distance from the scene of his old operations and where would be in a climate of which he could make no complaint. The trend of views as expressed by the cabinet Indicated that ultimate transportation to some place of confinement outside of the Philippines was the course most likely to be adopted.

Kansans Urge Funston's Promotion.

Senator Burton and Represntatives Long and Curtis saw the president. The president listened attentively to what the delegation had to say, and said he had under consideration the matter of rewarding General Funston for his services in capturing the Filipino chief. The delegation regard their interview as encouraging and hope to see the Kansan made a brigadier general in the regular establishment, but its members were careful to say that the president gave them no promise nor any indication as to his intentions in this regard.

Manila, March 30.—Aguinaldo is now detained in a comfortable room in a wing of the Malacanan palace. He is in charge of Captain Benjamin H. Randolph and Lieutenant Gilbert Youngberg, of Battery G. Thiri

Some hours elapsed before the news of Aguinaldo's capture was generally known. The fact that he was a prisoner caused joy and congratulation among the Americans. The native population was apathetic. There was no particular excitement anywhere.

WANT FUNSTON REWARDED.

Pennsylvania House Requests President to Take Suitable Action.

Harrisburg, March 30.-Another change was made in the senate congressional apportionment bill by the house committee. The bill as reported to the house Friday takes Cumberland away from York and Adams, which are made a separate district, and attaches it to the Seventeenth district, composed of Snyder, Perry, Mifflin, Juniata, Huntingdon, Franklin and Fulton. As the bill passed the senate, Lebanon, Dauphin and Cumberland are designated as the Nineteenth district.

Mr. Lack, of Chester, offered the following resolution, which adopted:

Whereas, It is the custom of the American people to recognize bravery and merit at all times and under all circumstances, and,

Whereas, General Frederick Funston, of the United States army, after many perils and hardships in the Philippine islands, has succeeded in capturing Aguinaldo, the leader of the insurrectionists, thus proving his magnificent bravery; therefore, be it

Resolved (if the senate concur) That the legislature of Pennsylvania respectfully request the president of the United States to reward General Funston in a manner that will fully recognize his great and meritorious service.

There were also other proceedings. On motion of Mr. Patterson, of Blair, the bill providing an additional law judge for Blair county was postponed indefinitely.

The Philadelphia ripper bills were reached and went over for second reading next week because they were not called. A number of other bills were disposed of on second reading, after which the house adjourned until Monday evening, about 8 o'clock being the time selected to meet.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know it.

How To Find Out. Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order. What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Amusement Hall Nearly Finished-Work on the Grounds.

The beginning of the fine weather has afforded an opportunity for the beginning of work on the grounds of the state hospital, and a force of men has been at work for the past week preparing the lots for grass seed and trees. A number of the hardier trees have been moved from the nursery to various places on the grounds. Gravel is being spread on the long road north of the buildings to the new park east of the inaround, fifty in number, gathered at his firmary. Many of the inmates are glad country home, east of the city, in the of the opportunity to get out after being confined in the buildings most of the winter. Excavations for the new cottages will be started within a few days Most of this work will be done by patients in the institution.

> Progress on the interior of the amusement hall has been rapid during the week. The stage is nearly completed and the floor of the auditorium will be finished within three days. A room will be prepared in the building for the library. At present the books are kept in the administration building. There are about three hundred books on the shelves and ouring the cold months there is a good demand for them. Patients are allowed to get books Tuesday and Friday afternoous. The present location is inconvenient.

A BAY OF DANGERS.

PERIL LURKS UNDER THE WATERS OF SAN FRANCISCO HARBOR.

Some Recent Discoveries Made In Scarching For the Wreck of the City of Rio de Janeiro-Many Ships Lost on Treacherous Rocks.

There is a very general impression that San Francisco harbor, at the entrance to which occurred the disastrous wreck of the City of Rio de Janeiro a few weeks ago, is one of the best and safest in the world. So it is, provided that all the affine and the safest in the world. So it is, provided that all the affine are heard the affine and the affine are the safest and the safe are the safest and the safe are th that all the officers on board the ship entering or leaving port are wide awake. Otherwise there is a large number of unit works and shoels read to w. A. Hanna, 51 N. Market St. Ex Canton, O. he will call and give you prices on cleaning wall paper. number of ugly rocks and shoals ready to work injury to the luckless vessel that strikes them.

Until very recently there were more than 24 dangers to navigation in the bay of San Francisco charted and known to mariners. Some of these, including Arch rock, have since been removed. The entrance to the harbor, the Golden Gate, is a narrow passage leading in from the ocean. On the south of the Golden Gate is a tongue of land on which is situated San Francisco, the northernmost point of the strip being known as Fort Point. Opposite Fort Point are two others, Point Diable and Lime point.

Between Diablo and Lime points on one side and Fort point on the other is a ledge of sunken rocks just off Fort point. This marks the narrowest and most dangerous part of the channel, and the tide here has at times a swirling motion and always runs high. It was on this ledge of rocks that the Rio de Jaueiro met her doom.

The wreck of the Rio de Janeiro hung for awhile on the pinnacle of rock which had given her the fatal wound and then slid off into deep water. Since then it has been impossible to find the wreck.

It is a curious fact that when a vessel sinks in mysterious San Francisco harbor finding the remains is a very difficult and sometimes impossible task. The cause is probably the depth of the water, combined with the rapid tide and the irregularity of the bottom. While vainly endeavoring a short time ago to find the wreck of the Rio de Janeiro the searchers solved an old mystery of the harbor. They discovered the battered old skeleton of the City of Chester, which went down in a fog after a collision with the Oceanic about 13 years ago. For all these years no one could say definitely what had become of the Chester until the grappling lines of the searchers for the Rio dragged against her.

The blowing up of Arch rock a short time ago removed one of the dangerous but picturesque obstructions to San Francisco harbor. Arch rock stood just at the eastern entrance to the Golden Gate and was almost the first object that struck the eye of the traveler from Asia. Its height above low tide was about 26 feet and its length about the same. A hole about 12 feet by 15, part of which was above the water, had been worn in the course of time through its center, giving it the appearance of an arch. The material plosives.

The Joys of Literature. Coleridge declared that poetry had been to him its own exceeding great

reward, and when offered a half share in two London newspapers, which Flax seed...... 1 50 would probably have yielded him an will not give up the country and the lazy reading of old folios for 2,000 times 40 £2,000!" "Patience!" Southey used to exclaim when occasionally weary of his enforced and ill paid drudgery at literary ephemera. "It is, after all, better than pleading in a stinking court at law or being called up at midnight BUTTER, EGGS AND POULTRY to a patient; it is better than being a lating profit and loss at a counter-bet-10 ter, in short, than anything but inde-Turkeys, live...... 081 pendence." The late M. Du Camp declared that he knew of no more beautiful occupation than that of an inde-Ham...... 124 pendent and unselfish author. "I owe to it the best joys of my life and the peace, of my age." Hawthorne loved his calling, though for 20 years he was the obscurest man of letters in America and had no incentive to effort in a reasonable prospect of fame or money -nothing, indeed, but the pleasure itself of literary composition.-Saturday Evening Post.
